

66 Malan. Xolois. Hai'orp.

At the top of the page is written '66 Malan. Xolois. Hai'orp.' The main body of the page contains several lines of handwritten text in a cursive script, which appears to be a form of shorthand or a specific dialect. The text is written on a piece of aged, yellowed paper with a grid pattern. There are some red ink marks and a small red cross-like symbol on the page. The handwriting is somewhat difficult to decipher due to its cursive nature and the age of the document.
